

Winning Every Time (with your money)

What's the difference between gambling in Las Vegas and the stock market? Las Vegas casinos will provide you with an 'odds sheet'. If you ask, they are required to give you one. At least it is a losing game with full disclosure. Try asking your stockbroker or money manager for an 'odds sheet' for your investment portfolio. Yeah . . . good luck. There is absolutely no such thing. Why? Because no one knows the odds of the market. No one. It is simply a gamble. Sometimes you win and sometimes you lose.

So let's imagine for a moment that there was a black jack table at one of these casinos and the worst you could do with any bet was a 'push' with the dealer. Break even. Better yet, what if there was a way to keep a percentage of every winning hand yet never give back a penny of any losing hands? How popular would that table be? How long do you think the line would be to sit at this table? The only problem would be that the line would never get shorter, because the people sitting at the table wouldn't be gambling – they would simply be winning. They would make a little money or break even on every hand. Why would they want to leave?

Think about that. How would you like to play a game that guaranteed you'd make money on every winning hand and break even on every losing hand? Now that's a game I want to play. You can too. However, it's not a game, it's a strategy that allows your savings to participate when the market grows while guaranteeing that you will never take a loss when the market goes down. We call it our 'retirement rescue plan' or 'private pension plan'.

The only question is, how much of your retirement savings do you want in this strategy? You can put this vehicle in your IRA, but what do you sell? Our suggestion would be to sell whatever is UP, take your profit and salt it away where you would never lose it. Where it can be guaranteed to grow and where it can be used to generate a lifetime income stream. That is what the private pension plan is designed to do.

Ask to see our tutorial document on how the 'private pension plan' works, how easy it is to set up and why you should have some of your hard earned savings protected by this strategy.

Dan M. Maga & Dan M. Maga, II

American College Funding
Maga Financial Associates
444 Skokie Blvd – Suite 302
Wilmette, IL 60091
847-920-9680

www.americancollegefunding.net
www.magafinancial.com

